

WCSD Needs Parents' Help

The Washoe County School District faces a crisis in getting funds to build new schools, renovate older schools and to improve technology. Currently, state law allows this school district only two sources of revenue, while all other districts have more. The district projects a shortfall of nearly $600 million in needed revenue between now and 2012. Details are on the WCSD website at <http://www.washoe.k12.nv.us/district/bond/wcsdfacescapitalfundingcrisis.html>
